Winchester Racquets and Fitness officially opens its third padel court - Billy Kerr reports

Following the installation of two padel courts back in October 2020, Winchester Racquets and Fitness officially opened their third court in May.

Club Vice Chair Matt Pye cut the ribbon to celebrate the additional court, and this was followed by a social padel tournament for club members.

Players from Winchester Rackets & Fitness club

Since installing the courts, which were provided by The Padel Court Company, the Winchester club has signed up over 110 new members on the new padel membership category, while the courts are also regularly used by a large section of the existing rackets and fitness members who also have access to the padel courts included in their membership package.

The total cost of installation was approximately £150K and based on the income generated in year one the club are already confident that they will have payback from court fees and additional membership income in as little as three years!

If any clubs in the county would like advice or guidance, Billy Kerr, the padel representative on the Hampshire LTA council, will be happy to assist. Billy who was GM at Winchester and oversaw the introduction of padel to the club, is also able to arrange visits or viewing of the courts at Winchester for any interested clubs. You can reach Billy at billy@winchesterracquetsandfitness.net

WORLD PADEL TOUR – 2022 CALENDAR

The Danish Padel Tour May 2022 – a fantastic day out - Katherine Montague reports

Hosted in the Royal Stage Hillerød, 30 minutes north of Copenhagen, tickets for the main show court cost £40 each, purchased from the WPT website. We watched the Round of 16 and enjoyed some tight matches between some of the best padel players in the world, including Lebrón and Salazar. I can fully recommend watching world class padel with world class Danish beer, hot dogs and cinnamon buns!

In a separate hall, the main padel brands were selling their rackets, clothing and equipment and provided mini walls on which to test their rackets.

DANISH PADEL OPEN
ROUND OF 16
ALEJANDRA SALAZAR	7	5	0	30
GEMMA TRIAY	6	2	0	15
CLAUDIA FERNANDEZ	7	5	0	30
JULIETA BIDAHOIRIA	6	2	0	15
MATCH TIME		01:53:40
SERVE		14

The venue had 4 courts and it was very easy to find a seat on any court to watch matches. Players wandered around the venue, so it felt very intimate and informal.

Some of the matches featured on World Padel Tour TV, which, once registered, is free to watch.

FIP Tour Rome May 2022 - Tom Murray reports

Two of our top British players (Sam Jones & Christian Murphy) competed last weekend in Rome Italy at the first FIP/Premier Padel European event (Men's only) – They lost a tight second round Qualy match after beating a top Italian pair in the first round.

The atmosphere was buzzing on Centre Court for the semi-finals and final. There were 6000+ for the final. The games were terrific, and the 'Freed from Desire' soundtrack got the crowds going! You can see videos on Premier Padel Instagram. The event was a huge success, and the Semis & Finals were broadcast on Sky Sports in UK. See FIP website for results.

Sam Jones (player), John Leach (coach), Christian Murphy (player) and Tom Murray (LTA's Head of Padel)

Tia Norton competed last weekend in Mallorca at a World Padel Tour event hosted at the Rafa Nadal Academy. See WPT for results.

All of our top ranked Brits (men's & women) will now head to Marbella to compete in the next World Padel Tour event. The next FIP/Premier Padel event will be at Roland Garros in July 11-17 where we will have 2-4 Brits competing as well.

LTA Grade 2 Women's Tournament Attracts a Large Draw

Following closely on the heels of a Grade 1 tournament at Stratford the previous weekend, which had attracted a women's draw of 24 pairs, it was fantastic to see another large women's draw on a sunny weekend in mid-May at the Grade 2 tournament held at the NTC.

16 pairs, ranging in ages from early 20's to late 50's, had a fantastic and long day of excellent padel competition. Many congratulations to Abigail Tordoff and Lila Simpson who were overall champions, winning the final against another strong partnership of Jo Ward and Helen Crook.

AN INTRODUCTION TO PADEL COACHING, STRATFORD, EAST LONDON

On a sunny May bank holiday, I participated in a coach training session delivered by Javier Fernandez from the Wimbledon Experience Limited team (WimX Learning). Our group consisted of mostly, but not exclusively, tennis coaches.

Aside from the tennis coaches, one was a sports teacher and keen padel player from the south coast and another, Michael, a retired, passionate padel player, keen to learn how to coach with a view to teaching beginners.

Michael plays at Stratford and has noticed a huge number of beginners new to the club, who might benefit from his knowledge and experience. The three of us were the only regular padel players of the group. So, if you are thinking about doing this course, it's not just for seasoned padel players. Completion of this course equates to 5 Continuous Professional Development (CPD) points towards the LTA tennis coach licence.

Most of the tennis coach contingent hadn't played much padel previously, so Javier started us off with some basic positioning and rules of the game. I was reminded of my first foray into padel, coming from tennis, forever trying to nip into the net too soon, applying too much pace, hitting the back glass and finding the court too small for my volleys! However, the tennis coaches were quick learners and soon adjusted their play to better suit padel.

Javier progressed to different types of feeding, for single and double glass shots, varying the feeds for green, amber and red shots off the back glass. He explained how to hold the racket, the use of slice or flat hitting rather than top spin. He covered the underarm serve and set up target practice, to vary the service feed. All in all, it was an enjoyable day with some of us using the lunch break to play a game.

Stratford Padel Club is a great venue, very sociable and friendly, with 5 indoor courts and is easy to access from central London – just a short walk from Stratford Station.

Coaches or enthusiastic padel players interested in the fundamentals of coaching padel can find a course in the LTA training courses section. Please remember this is not a padel coaching qualification.
